Two fun quotes from the book Seize the Daylight
by: Dr. David Prerau

"An extra yawn one morning in the springtime, an extra snooze one night in the autumn is all that we ask in return for dazzling gifts. We borrow an hour one night in April; we pay it back with golden interest five months later." -Winston Churchill

"It seems very strange . . . that in the course of the world's history so obvious an improvement should never have been adopted. . . . The next generation of Britishers would be the better for having had this extra hour of daylight in their childhood." -Sir Arthur Conan Doyle

So that was summer and like most things we enjoy, it went far too quickly. Or maybe time flew by as we were enjoying ourselves too much. Either way we are now looking at the stores stocking their autumn items and seeing the last few pairs of shorts and t-shirts cling onto the "sale" rack just like we try clinging on to the hope of the sun staying around a little more. But time cannot change the world turning. The nights are getting shorter, so we start to prepare for yet another autumn and eventually a winter. Goodbye summer. See you next year!

WE WISH EVERYONE A SAFE AND WARM WINTER!!!
